“ Opening the doors to your dreams”

A photograph of a library with children reading. The library has wooden bookshelves filled with books. A sign on the left says "PICTURE BOOKS". Several children in school uniforms are sitting on the floor, reading books. A man in a white shirt is also sitting on the floor, reading. The room is well-lit and has a warm atmosphere.

The Mission

“My personal mission is to give the gift of dreams through books”. Keymanna Paulas is on a mission to collect books to send to Africa, collaborating with local programs, which builds and creates libraries in the villages”. The benefits of reading are endless and this project makes it more accessible to those that do not have the luxury of smartphones and tablets or a quiet place to read. Reading and Imagination fosters cognitive and social development.

The Plan

Keymanna Paulas, will be hosting and/or supporting events around the U.S in order to complete the goal of collecting books for children ages 0-15.

All books must be in decent legible condition (no ripped or missing pages) and sent to Ghana, Liberia and other countries in the continent of Africa.

Shipping is being made possible through donations and government partnerships.

The Ask

We are asking for corporate partners, influencers, and volunteers that would like to support this initiative with their time and/or resources.

We also ask that when you see the #keysbooksforafrica that you repost and spread the word

Their Mission

The little things we take for granted.

Many kids do not have access to books that they can simply read for pleasure, while learning. This is the gap we are working to close.

We raise money to build container Libraries in communities in Ghana.
